Nampa Woman Dies of Accident Injuries at Hospital in Gooding

IDAHO FALLS — Fernestine L. Ogin, 21, became "Magic" this morning when she died in a car accident in the Nampa area. Miss Ogin broke her neck and died Saturday night just south of Nampa. She was the fourth for Gooding this year.

In the crash with Miss Ogin were three others. Two were seriously injured. They were in a 1946 DeSoto sedan driven by a man patient at the Community Memorial hospital.

and their condition is reported good by hospital officials.

Traffic Death Scoreboard

Here's a comparison of traffic fatalities for 1954 and 1953 for Magic Valley and for the entire state.

Magic Valley, 1954: 15

Magic Valley, 1953: 10

Idaho, 1954: 115

Idaho, 1953: 115

The woman was en route from Nampa to Idaho Falls—but on the wrong road. Only a short time before the accident, which had been caused by a skid, she had turned the driving over to Miss Ogin. The automobile missed a curve and struck several trees. The car was a 1946 Ford. The 29-year-old woman's name is to be known.

Miss Ogin was born Feb. 1, 1936.

Surviving are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Octavino Ogin, two brothers and four sisters.

The body was taken to Nampa by the Thompson chapel for funeral services and final rites.

100 Turn Out for Model Plane Event

Estimated 1,000 persons watched model airplane building in Idaho, Oregon and Utah compete for 16 trophies merchandise awards here Sunday during the ninth Magic Valley model airplane contest.

Five entries, the largest field in the event's history, at McMaster's Field south of Twin Falls and at Jaycees park.

The Twin Falls Exchange club sponsored the contest.

Gary Christensen, Salt Lake City, was awarded the model builder trophy for the most outstanding model builder participating in the day-long meet.

The competition included heat representation—with 11 members entered in the contest. Baker, Ore., modelers topped the trophy for the most outstanding distance club participation in part in Salt Lake City.

A whole family from Boise entered the contest. Participating were the Johnsons, their wife and their 10-year-old son, and the Johnsons' Exchange club and Magic Valley Gas Bugs Inc. members described the contest as the best in the last year. The Johnsons said they had noted out-of-state participation increasing each year.

Trophies and merchandise awards were given to the top 10 in each division.

Winters were flying scale, first, Floyd Pack; Open; second, John Klempler; Boys' glider, first, Edward Johnson; Girls' glider, first, Shirley Foskett; third, Dean Tomm.

A Rubber power first, William D. Dillman; second, Jim Wenzel; Caldwell; third, Stanley Biggs, Boise; junior, freeflight, first, Stephen Baumgart; senior, Bill Chay-

Funeral Rites Are Held for Emilie Dionne

CORBELL, Ont., Aug. 8—Emilie Dionne, 19, daughter of a man whose fame brought fortune and sadness was buried today in a simple ceremony attended by less than 20 persons. Her death was a tour of death from a distance.

Only the four other members of the famous five who birthed the world 20 years ago, the grieving mother, and a few close friends and family made up the 200 villagers who took part in the ceremony.

A solemn requiem mass was sung by the Rev. W. H. "Tim" Lévesque, pastor of the church where one of three stars used in the funeral rites. Emilie died from epileptic seizures. In St. Agathe, Que., Dr. Francis Gagnon said he could not find a priest who would officiate.

Officials here said the American priest could not be found because he could not speak French.

Emilie, 19, died at 11:30 p.m. and the 18th case became fatal.

She was donated the plane to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. The plane, owned by the Salvado family, flew from Churchill, Manitoba, to the U.S. and Canada.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

(This article is the story by Ted Tucker from Egypt.)

CAIRO, Egypt.—Former King Farouk of Egypt, who excelled Marc Anthony as the great lover boy of the Nile, is undoubtedly the most hated man in the world of international politics. His ranks below Hitler and Mussolini, in Egyptian opinion, because they—at least—did something good.

He had been depressed by too much poverty, too much sin and too much desert; he did nothing but nightmarish things on a scale that would stagger even the most callous of us.

The 100 newspapermen from 18 countries invited here to attend the second anniversary of Egypt's independence were visibly visited and calmed by several of the former king's palace harem—now all empty, for his girl friends have gone to America as it were.

NATIONAL REPRESENTATIVES, WEST HOLLYWOOD, CALIF.—The harems now are empty, for his girl friends have gone to America as it were. They were the palace favorites, which they used readily what ever they had.

GOOD NEWS

There is no apparent reason to fear that Egypt will become another ward of Uncle Sam after John Bull marches out.

True, a new American aid-agreement probably will be made soon, but the Egyptians have not presented any list of economic or military needs and to casual visitors they present a convincing show of wanting to play their own way.

For the next year at least, this aid would have to be confined to appropriations already made by congress. The President has authority to switch money from one country to another.

The British never did give a great deal of aid to Egypt. British claims to have "subsidized" Egyptians for 30 years are something of a misrepresentation. The British always bought Egyptian cotton and sold Egyptian military and other equipment—a profitable business.

British resentment at losing this business is natural. To Britons who are glad to have this empire-burden-ended, there would be an equally natural joy that Americans, after helping to force the British out, would now assume the burden. But it need not work out that way.

The two-year-old government of President Naguib and Prime Minister Nasser has shown a commendable ambition to run a solvent operation.

This should help allay any American isolationist fears that the United States may be embarking on a new adventure and involvement in one corner of Africa, leading eventually to other ones.

American interest in Egypt has centered on tourist attractions, such as the Sphinx, the Pyramids and now the Barge of Cheops. The U. S. has its own surplus of cotton, which is the one thing Egypt has to sell.

The United States has nevertheless, in some years been number two on Egypt's foreign trade list. This has been due to automobile sales.

The Egyptians haven't bought many lower priced cars but wealthy Egyptians have bought two and three Cadillacs apiece.

American business with Egypt is on the rise. Two American oil companies have exploration-contracts in the western desert, on which millions will be spent. If a major oil discovery is made, it will mean big business. And the royalties will help pay for the new government's five-year plan to raise the standard of living.

An American engineering firm has made an economic study of Egypt on which industrial expansion is being based. American management has been hired to run new industries, like rayon mills.

U. S. government aid to Egypt has been largely technical assistance for specific projects. There are two pilot reclamation projects in operation. One is to drain a lower Nile marsh. The other is to irrigate a portion of desert. This is about $1 million dollars.

There are also pilot rural improvement projects. They are aimed at raising the skills of the country workers to keep them down on the farm instead of adding to the city unemployment.

This is the type of aid that Egypt needs as compared to the big military programs more than anything else. It isn't expensive, as compared to the big military aid programs we put on in Turkey and Greece.

The campaign proposal of A. C. Cordon, Foreign Minister, is to establish good relations with Egypt if it will help improve the now greatly deteriorated relations with Saudi Arabia and all the other countries of the Arab world.

VINDICATED

When Senator McCarthy began showing interest in communism back in 1950, a man named John Peurifoy was security officer of the state department. Peurifoy disputed some of the senator's allegations about communism in the department, and for this the young man got a severe blistering from McCarthy.

The senator said the department was "covering up" Red within its fold. The odds fell clearly on Peurifoy, since it was his job to keep the department free of subversion.

McCarthy never troubled to prove his charge. Peurifoy was hurt, nevertheless. He looked forward to the time when he might demonstrate quite firmly that he was no点缀 of communists.

He got his first chance in Greece, to which he was made ambassador. His work in helping to shore up anti-communist elements in the Greek government was notable. But his biggest triumph was still ahead.

It came a few weeks ago in Guatemala, where Peurifoy had gone as ambassador. When the anti-communist revolt was complete, recognition was given Peurifoy as a key factor in getting it off successfully. His own party had done its best to prove that he once met Guatemala's military men with a gun in a shoulder holster. He did not have to use it, but he was ready.

One may fairly say that Peurifoy has shown beyond any doubt where he stands on communism. His performance has been heralded in almost every quarter, but one—Senator McCarthy's. For the senator never bothers to retract when he is wrong.

The British embassy in Great Britain abstained from voting when the 12-nation trusteeship council passed on its credential committee's report recognizing Nationalist China's seat in the United Nations.

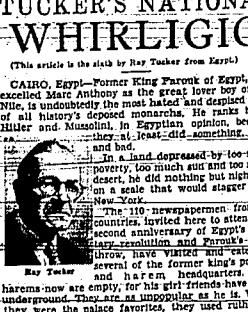

As explained by Sir Alan Burns, British ambassador to the council, since the United Kingdom recognizes the government of Red China, it could not vote under the first name and seat of Twin Falls Chinese.

There is no logic to that explanation, as Britain has voted to seat Red China in the past on the fact that she had extended recognition to Red China.

Britain, it is evident, finds incongruity an attractive quality in the political life of India.

In this instance, the kingdom lined up in effect with Russia and India, which countries voted against the resolution.

It is not clear why the British and Indians act like nature from our sun generally subscribe friend and ally—Yakima sun generally.

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

NEW YORK.—Max Ascoli came home as a refugee from Mussolini's fascist Italy and, after varied political-intellectual activity, became a daughter of the late Julius Rosenwald, master of the great Chicago mail-order Crocker's.

He is a political-influential intellectual active in the New School for Social Research, which he helped found, and which comes to our door once a fortnight with all the refreshment of a cool breeze of reason and enlightenment.

Brennan, then sprung a "special offer," money back if not satisfied. So I called at Brennan's and told the manager of the place, that the highest authority available at that time in that enormously influential book-selling house, that Ascoli's specialty was selling literature or showing a line.

Who, I asked, was president of Brennan's? He is not in. Who is the managing director among the Hollywood stars, returning to the workers' paradise?

Max Ascoli's magazine, the Review of Books, is a strange plus a month ago on the letterhead of Brennan's, the big book-selling house, is Bernard. Our phone number is File 0105-36.

TAKE A HOP, ERNIE

Dear Poet:

This morning derby at Joyce park Saturday is the sort of activity we should have more of around here. And even if there hadn't been such excellent prizes, I'm sure just about all the regulars would have turned out for it.

Ernie Crater must have worked hard on that project. He and his wife have been a great help in getting lots of credit for starting that project here and keeping it going. You know, those advance arrangements—fish and prizes, etc., etc., etc.

The fish-harpooners deserve a pat on the back for donating the fish, too.

There was only one holding up about the annual meeting—reference to Horner park. The event was held in Joyce park. Harpon park is that little "stretch" of park in the northwest corner of the big city. What is the old swimming pool used to be?

OUR BULLETIN BOARD

Trunkless—Sorry, but we can't do anything about it. We have to wait until he gets his plug-in, then we'll be able to get him to the Jerome pool. Still, we're sure he'll come back to the Jerome pool. You might tell your grandpa to take him off, adding that for him that she didn't care when they were taken what size they are or who lost them.

S. O. THERE!

Dear Pot Shots:

It looked like an overnight when the national anthem was played right away the national anthem was played at the hall park. That was Friday night—Saturday and Sunday nights I don't recall hearing it.

So now it looks like a deliberate decision not to play the national anthem before football games. I'm not making a deliberate decision, namely, to stay away from the ball park, but the national anthem is before all the other games, just like it used to be.

What little man has decided he's bigger than the national anthem and the tradition to play it before each ball game?

Homer H. Budde, Boise

One of the gal in the office was complaining the other day that she can't find a word in the dictionary.

"If you knew how to spell it, you wouldn't have to look it up," replied the gal. "Otherwise, if you don't know how to spell it, how can you find it?"

Then she went ahead to outline her plan for the future. She would go over the list under the possible ways of spelling with the correct spelling noted under the listing.

WANTA SHOOT RABBITS?

Dear Shoot:

For the last two or three years, there has been a group of "shooters" that there aren't enough rabbits—rabbits, that is. In the valley to provide an afternoon's sport.

I don't know for sure, but it would appear from the available evidence that there's a stretch of dead adjoining Hagerman valley that would provide an afternoon of plinking at the pests.

Highway 30 between the Barbary grade and Sawley's bridge is the only road available.

Several places. Find one of those stretches, then just head south and you should find plenty of rabbits.

Cook ears in salted water and pack ears in containers or wrap in moisture-vapor-resistant material. Seal and freeze.

If corn-on-the-cob is used, the enzyme action has not been stopped by blanching long enough to allow the heat to penetrate through the cob. Some housewives are freezing them even because it is economical and conserves the food.

"I WISH TO DO JUST THAT—"

Mustangs' Late Rally Nips Cowboys 7-5, Ihde Loses; Great Falls Here Tonight

The scrapping Billings Mustangs, fighting for the Pioneer league lead, pushed across three runs in the top of the ninth inning Sunday night to take a 7-5 victory from the Cowboys in the rubber game of the series.

A walk and three-consecutive doubles off the slants of Al Ihde scored the three markers, and won the game for the Mustangs.

Manager Everett Robinson used

a total of five pitchers in an effort to win the game, the win column for the Cowboys. He started with

Fred Dupree, who lasted for one and two-thirds innings.

He was followed by Jim Stoddard, who went one and one-third innings, and then came Al Ihde, who had one inning and then became the hero of the game.

That was all he needed to do,

but he was unable to mop up after the Billings runs were in.

Monday night the Cowboys host the fourth-place Great Falls trio to start a three-game set for 8:15 pm.

The process of elimination makes Jim Stoddard the logical choice to start on the hill for the Cowboys.

It will be in town until Wednesdays.

The Mustangs went to work on Dupree in the opening frame and three hits and a sacrifice foul fly.

Wally Sinner proved no trouble for the Cowboys in the bottom half of the first as Bob Will, Bob Lemire and Everett Robinson all walked.

Only 14 More Home Dates On Schedule For Cowboys

Will scored on Hook's grounder at short, which retired Robinson at second. Chuck McClelland blasted a long double that scored Lemire to make it 1-1. Jim Stoddard, the hooker, made his first start as he struck out the side.

McClelland, making his first start as a Cowboy catcher, then tapped one down first that Al Ihde didn't handle and McClelland scored.

The Mustangs got a single run in the second when Dupree gave two walks and Jim Stoddard came in to relieve and was greeted with a "long slide" to center-by Grundwald. Hayson tried to get the ball, but it was carried out over the left field wall.

Jorgensen relieved the Mustangs without trouble in the seventh but without getting a hit to open the eighth-he was pulled.

Elmer Yasmin came on and got all four runs back to the ball into the air and then got the next inning off his shoulder.

Bob Jammet took another sure hit from Jim Stoddard, which he left to appear a line drive.

Cliff Dapper, the Billings manager and catcher, split a finger in the middle of the game.

Some of the fans gave Dapper a rough time during the series; con-siderately heckling him with a nickname, "Dapper," which he does not like.

His mother is clear he does not like the name.

Nixon Group Loses Battles In California

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 9 (UPI)—U. S. Sen. William F. Knowland won a partial victory over a group allied with Vice-President Richard Nixon.

The victory was scored by the Republicans in their battle to retain control of the state Senate committee. Observers said the result may have national repercussions two years hence.

At a state GOP convention during the weekend, the Knowland-Knight supporters elected Howard Ahmann, Los Angeles businessman, as the sole candidate for chairman of the state committee.

Raymond Arbutin, Los Angeles rancher, withdrew from the race.

Post Important.

This is important because the vice-chairman will play a key role in choosing presidential delegates in next year's national convention.

The Knowland-Knight forces won their victory when they beat down an attempt by the Nixon group to have the general committee elect a secret ballot instead of roll call.

Attempt Abandoned.

With the defeat, the move now rests with R. Goff, who was originally set to nominate Arbutin, abandoned the attempt to obtain the election of his choice.

The Knowland-Knight forces declared that Nixon had no hand in the proposed nomination.

Meanwhile, California Governor-elect Mrs. Elizabeth Snyder of Los Angeles, to be chairman of their state central committee. She is the first woman in California history to hold the post.

Funeral Held for Man in Richfield

RICHFIELD, Aug. 9—Funerals were held Friday afternoon at the Richfield Orange auditorium with the Rev. Royal J. Myers, pastor of the First Methodist Church officiating. Mrs. H. Woodrow Ash played the piano prelude and postlude and was accompanist for the Methodists.

Active pallbearers were George R. Schwerner, Newton Graven, C. H. Paulson, Clinton Clegg, S. M. Morris and W. L. Wilson. Honorary pallbearers were H. J. Lemmon, Frank Pope, W. S. Kahl, C. A. Johnson, Jim Gill and Billie Stroud.

Grave-side rites at the Shoshone cemetery were conducted by the Richfield and Shoshone ministers. After the service, Bill Dillworth and Charles Pendleton of the Shoshone Lodge and Max Behr and Forrest Armstrong, Richfield officials, laid a wreath. Richfield members and G.O.S. members with flowers.

City of Hoover's Birth Works Hard on His Birthday Rituals

WEST BRANCH, Ia., Aug. 9 (UPI)—Leaders of the town here turned out a six-deep schedule today to welcome former President Herbert Hoover to the cottage where he was born 80 years ago.

Guests, including Vice President Richard Nixon, will accompany Mr. Hoover when he returns to West Branch tomorrow to celebrate his 80th birthday.

In addition, officials expected 50,000 persons to jam the town and welcome back the former President.

The celebration will include a parade and the presentation of a six-tiered birthday cake.

The plans centered on a two-room house where the future President was born. The young Hoover became an orphan when he was 10 years old and moved away. But the house still stands in the living room and is now surrounded by a park.

Mr. Hoover is out last night from Oakland, Calif., on his trip back to West Branch.

As the San Francisco-Oakland ferry took him to his departure point, he remained with newspapermen who have recorded so much of his long life.

The Southern Pacific's City of San Francisco train will be achieved at 6:15 a.m. (MST) tomorrow. A motor caravan will carry him and his party to West Branch, 30 miles away.

Plans here included the awarding of an honorary doctor of law degree from the University of Iowa and a special service dinner this afternoon.
